BASIC
CLASSIFICATION AND LISTING
CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA PAPER MONEY
1861-1865

FOREWORD

The writer finds the collection and study of Confederate States of America paper money so interesting, but of such great breadth, that he has been impelled to develop for his own use a classification of the types and main varieties, which it is believed will be of interest to other collectors. Consequently, the following material was prepared not only for new and general collectors, but also for those who desire to advance to the collection of main varieties in addition to types.

However, the scheme of listing is so flexible, and the scope of the information and references so broad, that the collector may expand his activities into the sub-varieties and specialize in the wide field offered by the large number of differences, particularly in certain types of notes. The method of classification conforms to a basically simple, logical system which indicates sub-variety characteristics and provides for listing their occurrence in many combinations.

Another objective of the present listing is to cross-reference features of various other listings in order to reduce the complications facing the general collector and the specialist. In this respect, it is believed the cross-index, listing and tables adequately refer to the listings of Bradbeer, Scott (Wayte Raymond) and Allen.

A number of varieties are included which have not been previously listed. It is realized that other varieties may have come to the attention of collectors and dealers in this field, and information on such items is solicited.

For historical background, biographical sketches, detail information on paper, watermark and serial letter varieties, etc., reference should be made to W. W. Bradbeer's monumental book "Confederate and Southern State Currency", 1915. This source has been drawn upon to a large extent in the preparation of the following material.

Every type of note is well illustrated in the series of splendid descriptive articles by H. D. Allen in "The Numismatist", issues of June, 1917 to February, 1919. Acknowledgment is made of these as a source of information.

In a work of this nature complete avoidance of errors is not to be expected, although manuscript and proofs have been carefully reviewed and compared. The writer will appreciate his attention being called to errors and omissions, and will seriously consider suggestions and constructive criticism looking toward improvements which might be included in a revised edition.

Acknowledgment is here made of the interest and assistance of D. C. Wismer, L. B. Beatty and of others, in making helpful suggestions, furnishing data, and in checking and review.

* Only the central or other prominent subjects on the note are described.
 Printing with color is indicated in ().

TYPE

Following the TYPE NUMBER at the left margin is the description of the main features of the note, indicative of its TYPE. The numbering of types follows the generally accepted practice of listing the notes in each issue starting with the lowest denomination. For greater convenience notes of 1861 issues are numbered starting with 101; notes of 1862 issues, starting with 201; notes of the 1863 issue, starting with 301; and notes of the 1864 issue, starting with 401. Engravers' names generally are in parentheses at the end of the description.

VARIETY

When a type of note has plate, engraver and printing differences or variations which, because of their nature and combination, are worthy of separate listing as a VARIETY, each is identified by a VARIETY LETTER (A, B, C, etc.) followed by a description of that variety. The variety letter always is associated with the type number (Examples: 137A or 214C). When the type number is used alone, without the variety letter, either there are no varieties or reference is intended broadly to the type. The variety letter "A" usually indicates a more common variety of that type.

PAPERS AND WATERMARKS

The existence of different papers and of one or more watermarks is indicated by an "up-slant" (/) following the type number or variety letter. Detail information regarding papers and watermarks is contained in Section II. Plain paper is to be understood unless otherwise indicated.

PLATE LETTER-NUMBERS AND SIGNATURES

Plate letter-numbers follow the description of the type or variety.

The listing disregards the various positions, sizes, shapes and punctuation of plate letter-numbers and their repetition singly or in connection with other plate letter-numbers. Only the dominant letters or numbers are considered important enough to specify.

Signature differences are not listed.

RARITY

Variety letters and plate letter-numbers underlined indicate materially greater relative rarity.

BRADBEER NUMBERS

For convenient cross-reference, the numbers in parentheses following the plate letter-numbers indicate those Bradbeer numbered items which come within that description. Varieties with "Unl" in the parentheses are unlisted in Bradbeer.

SUB-VARIETY DIFFERENCES AND CLASSIFICATION

Paper, watermark and plate letter-number and signature differences, also minor plate, engraver and printing differences, are considered SUB-VARIETIES. The existence of many such differences is indicated and their nature and known occurrence in combination are described and classified for use to the extent desired. Class designations, either numerals or abbreviations, or both, are assigned to engraver, plate, printing, paper and watermark differences.

Class designations, when used, follow the type number or variety letter, in the sequence:- first, plate, engraver or printing; second, paper and watermark; third, plate letter-number; and fourth, signatures.

It is believed that almost every sub-variety comprised of various combinations of differences can be uniformly classified by the addition of one or more class designations to the designation of a particular type or main variety.

PLATE, ENGRAVER OR PRINTING SUB-VARIETY NUMERALS

One or more numerals immediately following the variety letter classify the sub-variety difference as one of plate, engraver or printing. Some numerals for these differences are assigned in notes under certain of the types.

Examples:

"109C2" indicates the No. 109C variety with eleven stars.

"125B3" indicates the No. 125B variety with fine lace red overprint.

PAPER AND WATERMARK DESIGNATIONS

The class designation for paper and watermark differences may be either numerals or abbreviations. It is always preceded by an "up-slant" (/) following the letter and numerals (if any) designating plate, engraver and printing varieties and sub-varieties. Use of this up-slant mark (/) and adherence to the sequence specified are essential to avoid confusion. See Section II for paper and watermark designations.

Examples:

"123A/23" indicates variety 123A with watermark "J Whatman 1862".
This may also be indicated: "123A/JW62"

"123E1/22" indicates variety 125E with solid red overprint and with watermark "CSA" in script letters. This may also be indicated:
"125E1/sCSA"

PLATE LETTER-NUMBER CLASSIFICATION

For classification of plate letter-number differences, the plate letter-number itself is preferably utilized.

The plate letter-number is always preceded by a "down-slant" (\) following the designation (if any) for paper and watermarks. Use of this down-slant mark (\) and adherence to the specified sequence are necessary for clearness.

Examples:

"131A\BA" indicates variety 131A with serial letter BA.
"131A1/21\Y" indicates variety 131A with overprint in solid red, watermark "CSA" in block letters, and serial letter Y.

SIGNATURE CLASSIFICATION

Signatures are classified by direct mention.

COUNTERFEITS AND FACSIMILE NOTES

Many of the Confederate States of America notes were counterfeited. Many of the counterfeits and facsimiles are immediately apparent from the crude engraving, poor printing or printed signatures, and some are marked "Counterfeit" or "Facsimile". The existence of better executed counterfeits and facsimiles is indicated by ø following the detail description of the type or variety.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The prevailing size of note is approximately 3 by 7 inches. Type Nos. 113 and 203 to 206 inclusive are about one inch shorter. The 50¢ notes, Nos. 301 and 401, are 2-1/4 by 3-1/4 inches.

All genuine notes, except the two above 50¢ values, have autograph signatures.

Act of August 19, 1861. Authorized $100,000,000. Act of December 24, 1861 authorized $50,000,000. Fundable in eight per cent stock or bonds. Payable "six months after the ratification of a treaty of peace between the Confederate States and the United States".

There are six denominations: The $2 in one type; the $5 in seven types by six engravers; the $10 in nine types by four engravers; the $20 in five types by five engravers; the $50 in three types by three engravers; and the $100 in one type. The large number of types and engravers, and the widely varying quality of engraving, printing and papers, are eloquent of the difficulties encountered in securing competent engravers.

"CSA" in script and block letters also occur with a wavy border line watermark about 1/2 inch from the edges of the note. This sub-variety may be designated by /32 and /31, respectively.

"CSA" in block letters also occurs reading vertically (across the width) on the note. This sub-variety may be designated by /51.

Watermarks occur both reading normal and reading reversed, when viewed from the back.

Table 1 includes the types and main varieties which have more than one kind of unwatermarked paper, and includes those which have one or more kinds of watermark.

The column headings include the class designations, both numerals and abbreviations, for convenience in listing paper and watermark varieties.

The existence of watermarks is indicated in the columns by the appropriate Bradbeer item number, or by "Unl" if unlisted in Bradbeer. Other paper and watermark varieties found to exist can be entered in the appropriate column and line in Table 1.

PRICE LIST SUPPLEMENT
CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA PAPER MONEY

Following the numbering system used in Chase's "Basic Classification and Listing - Confederate States of America Paper Money - 1861-1865"

This Supplement to Chase's "Basic Classification and Listing of C.S.A. Paper Money" lists prices, in fine condition, of notes of the different types and of their engraving, printing, paper and watermark varieties.

The prices have been developed after consideration of dealer price lists, auction and private sale prices, degree of rarity in fine condition, nature of variety, and collector interest.

However, no attempt has been made to price certain "minor" varieties, such as those differing only in plate letters or numbers, or signatures.

For notes which deviate from fine condition, premiums or discounts may be applicable. The amount of premium or discount should appropriately reflect the degree of scarcity and desirability of the note in that particular condition. Notes of the earlier issues (such as 1861), of less durable paper, or of commonly used denominations, are less likely to exist in fine or better condition, while notes of later issues, of more durable paper, or less commonly used, are more likely to exist in fine or better condition.

CONDITION GRADING

The following terms and requirements regarding condition are suggested:-

Uncirculated: No evidence of usage; paper clean, printing fresh in color.
Very Fine: Slight usage; without defects; printing fresh in color.
Fine: Moderate usage; no tears, cuts or parts missing.
Good: Small tears or cut cancellation permitted, but no part missing.
Fair: Considerable usage; minor parts missing.

Paper	Number	Symbol
Plain*	/1	plain*
Bond	/2	bond
Thin	/3	thin
Bank note	/4	bank
Red fibre	/11	fibre
* White, unless otherwise stated, for example pink.

WATERMARKS

(See page 35 for tracings)

Watermark	Number	Symbol
"CSA" in block letters	/21 or 31*	bCSA
"CSA" in script letters	/22 or 32*	sCSA
"J Whatman 1862"	/23	JW62
"Hodgkinson & Co Wookey Hole Mill"	/24	HWHM
"FIVE"	/25	FIVE
"TEN"	/26	TEN
"NY"	/27	NY
* With a wavy border line watermark about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch from the edges of the note.

Where a type or variety has different papers or watermarks, for convenience, both the number and the symbol for each are shown in the price tables, pages 33-35. Either the number, or the symbol, identifies the paper or watermark.

MISCELLANEOUS

Cross-Index, Bradbeer numbers to Chase numbers, is on pages 36-38.
Additions and Corrections to the "Classification" are listed on page 38.
